

Contributing to Oxford Meeting

What are your interests?

Dear Friend of Oxford Meeting,

Within our Meeting, besides the meetings for worship there are many activities needed to sustain our community. (See www.oxfordquakers.org). Named individuals carry out specific tasks, both in committees and in individual roles. It's the task of our Nominations Committee to find people interested and willing to take up such responsibilities.

Of course, we can't be aware of all the many interests, talents and experience people have. That's true, whether you have recently joined us or you have been part of our Meeting for a long time.

To help us, we invite you to fill in, overleaf, how and where you might be willing to contribute, plus (wherever appropriate) a note of any particular skills or experience you have. The headings include the main areas that Nominations Committee covers. We hope these headings will nudge you to indicate your interests in a variety of different areas! There is also a space for 'Other', to cover anything else you'd like to mention.

(Please note: In all these areas, vacancies arise from time to time, sometimes unpredictably. We try our very best to match up people and roles, but we can't promise to find the right slot for you right away. Please be patient!)

PLEASE CIRCLE ALL THE AREAS YOU MIGHT CONSIDER HELPING WITH. THANK YOU!

1. Welcoming people to Meeting
2. Making coffee after Meeting
3. Catering and hospitality
4. Activities with children; support for parents and children
5. Gardening
6. Care and maintenance of the premises
7. Finance and appeals
8. Website and IT skills in general
9. Library
10. Newsletter
11. Interfaith and ecumenical activities – religious education
12. Interests in peace and social justice, e.g. poverty, fair trade
